

SANGUINARY RIOTS

THE OUTSKIRTS OF BELFA

between the Catholics and the Troops
Number of Persons Reported Killed Riots Commence on Saturday Night and are Renewed Last Evening.

BELFAST, Jan. 30.—There was a terrible riot in the Petershill, Carrickhill and Shankhill districts of this city last night. The trouble originated through soldiers

...to the West Surrey regiment, a number of Catholic civilians were later retaliated by stoning the soldiers, many of whom were injured. This was followed by wholesale arrests. A constable engaged in this duty was severely injured by the excited crowd. Finally military pickets were called out.

This evening the rioting was renewed. Altogether 50 rioters have been arrested. The trouble originated on Saturday night in a row between Protestants and Catholics. The arrival of the police increased the mob and led to the rioting.

free use of revolvers at their protection. The Mayor and other authorities did their best to prevent a renewal of the rioting to-night, but without success, although to-night's riot was small compared with those of Saturday.

Only three persons were arrested to-night. The authorities did not

The appearance of two constables who gave evidence before the Riot Investigation Commission. The constables were roughly handled. The reinforcements had to be called out. Some prisoners were taken and the crowd tried to rescue them, when the police were again

Mr. Parnell's Serious Illness.
LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Irish cause has had a more narrow escape from the loss of its life than the English cause has had from the loss of its leader. Mr. Parnell's serious illness has been the subject of much speculation, and the public mind has been kept in a state of suspense as to the result. It is now known that Mr. Parnell is recovering from his illness, and that he will be able to resume his duties in the near future. This is a great relief to the Irish cause, and a great disappointment to the English cause.

time suspected. With characteristic do and reserve, Mr. Parson kept back in every one, even his nearest colleagues, the seriousness of his late illness. The facts have only just come to light now he is out and among us, we now see how terribly he has been reduced in his struggle with death. His pale, worn face thin neck and the reduction of a fourteen pounds in his weight, show fearfully he suffered. For seven consecutive days he was absolutely unable to take or retain administered food in an amount. Another week at this rate would have seen him in his grave. This is the more curious as Mr. Parnell was always so abstemious at the table. His illness

the result of irregular hours and a strain of Parliamentary life. For three months he has not tasted butcher's meat. He is confined strictly to fish and fruit. His recovery must, in any case, be slow, and is liable to be impeded by his duties in the House of Commons.

Jury Declares She Is Fit to Take Care of Herself.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Emma Emmons, wife of Prof. Emmons, who has been the subject of inquiry by the

for the past two weeks, was to-day pronounced by the jury to be sane. The verdict is: "That the said Welt Emmons, in the said writ named, is an idiot nor a lunatic, nor otherwise unsound mind so that she has not the ability to govern herself and her property."

in this cause by Samuel F. Emmons on the 31st day of December, A.D. 1886. Mrs. Emmons, who has refused to be interviewed to-day, is reported to have received the news of the verdict, declaring, in a calm and unexcited manner, the same, without any unusual manifestations of pleasure, simply remarking: "I am sure I should win in a fair trial." Her plans for the future are not yet made, but it is understood she intends to go to some distant place.

self and the professor, and will probably soon return to Europe and take up residence in St. John's Wood, in a cottage which she has leased for nine years. The Professor says he will not make any further efforts to reclaim his wife, beyond the note published to-day warning people to trust her on his account. "All that could be done has been done," he says.

and, now let those who have upheld the poor child against my wishes take charge of her. Of course she will not do anything, as the income from her telephone stock will be ample for her maintenance. The houses that she has rented in London is in a very pretty quarter near Regent's Park, and the residences in the

BURGLARS' TAGGED.

OSTONIA, O., Jan. 20.—About 2 o'clock this morning Mr. Fred Behr, who runs a restaurant near the B. & O. depot, was awakened by hearing burglars trying to open the front door. His sleeping is just over the restaurant, which is connected with the latter by an inner passageway. Grabbing his revolver, a muscular-looking forty-four caliber, he stepped down alone to meet them. Opening the screen door that separates the kitchen from the restaurant, he almost ran into one of the burglars, who had stuck his revolver into his hip, exclaiming, "Get out of here!"

At that instant Behr pulled the trigger and fired two shots. The burglar returned the fire, and eight shots were exchanged in rapid succession, smashing windows, shattering china and plowing huge holes through the wood work. Several bullets passed through the door behind which Behr was hiding, yet he remained with

The burglars then skipped out and B...
... and noticed that they got into
... car of a passing freight. He notified
... conductor, and as soon as the car le
... the door was locked and the bur
... were prisoners. They made a des
... attempt to escape by broaking th
... and came near succeeding.

...the door was opened and the arrested. It was found that one man was dangerously wounded, a bullet entering his breast just above the heart. The man was seen spitting blood, and it is not unlikely the wound will kill him. He has been identified by Behr as the one who did the shooting. He gives his name as James Daly, a native of New York.

He is about thirty years old. The others gave their names as Frank, of Chillicothe, a printer, and Robert Cooper, of Chicago, a chainmaker about twenty-five years old. At the preliminary hearing before the Mayor's court all waived examination, and in default of six hundred dollars bail each

Our minister could not have preached at Stoughton last Sabbath.